(On Curriculum Feedback from students', Teachers, Employers & Alumni)

This year 2020-2021, the feedback was collected through online forms which are placed in college website from students, Teachers, Alumni & Employers on curriculum and on other aspects.

- The IQAC, Academic Council and Board of Studies of various Departments upgrade and improvise the Curriculum keeping in view the consolidated opinions of the Stakeholders.
- The feedback collected from students, faculty, Alumni and employers reflects that curriculum is good as response for every query is above 90% (very good and good combined) satisfactory level.
- However, when compared to other queries, slightly lower score was observed for "Employability of the course" by almost all the stakeholders like students, faculty, and alumni. Hence, the departments are directed to propose to introduce more number of certificate courses which can produce employability / entrepreneurship based on the local needs. Few of them are

 - Jam, Jelly and ketchup making
 - Bio fertilizers Production
 - Medical lab technician
 - Mushroom cultivation

- The departments are directed to pay special attention to Employability and entrepreneurship skills while designing the regular curriculum.
- As per the feedback from employers, students must be trained more in communication skills. Hence, it is proposed to introduce a greater number of courses and activities involving soft skills and communication skills.
